

Summer Baptisms

By Mary Jane Turner Jex

I got thinking about baptisms and I remember Grandma (Mary Susan Gray Littleford) telling me how they did all the baptisms in the summer and they would ride out to Saratoga and then get baptized in Utah Lake. They would take 2 or three hay wagons with straw in them and haul the kids back and forth. After you were baptized they let you run around in wet clothes until they dried then would haul you back home. My how life has changed.
